

BORDERWINE

In development (looking for co-productions/pre-sales)

An American family man, Jack, discovers that he has had another child with an old acquaintance during a trip to Italy. So Jack is forced to leave for Italy. His journey will not only be a way to build a relationship with his twenty-year-old son, but also an opportunity to rediscover himself through his greatest passion: Italian way of life and wine, an essential co-protagonist of this story.

Borderwine is a sentimental, touching comedy, able to tell, with irony, absolutely ordinary people who lose their certainties in times of difficulty but strive to find a new balance.

GENRE

Comedy/Drama - feature

AUTHOR and DIRECTOR

Enrico Lando (TV series and feature film "I soliti idioti")

CAST (SUGGESTED)

Ewan McGregor

Willem Dafoe

Barbara Ronchi ("Rapito" - 2023
Palme D'Or Selection)

Mattia Carraro ("Prisma")

COMMERCIAL APPEAL

Italian landscapes and wine, Italy-USA cultures, rediscovery of an authentic life

TARGET

Women and men 30+

REFERENCES MOVIES

"Sideways", "The Descendants",
"Broken flower"